

Netwoven Named Forty-Ninth Fastest-Growing Company in the Bay Area in 2009 by Inc. Magazine

PLEASANTON, Ca., September 1, 2009 — Netwoven today announced it was named the forty-ninth fastest-growing company in the Bay Area in 2009 by Inc. Magazine.

For the past two years, Inc. Magazine has published a list of the 5000 fastest-growing privately held companies in the United States. This well-known list of the nation's most successful private companies has become the stamp of entrepreneurial success.

“We are very pleased to have this distinguished recognition of our tremendous growth and success. Netwoven is committed to helping our customers effectively manage their enterprise information flow which will allow us to continue our growth,” said Niraj Tenany, CEO and founder.

Netwoven Inc. is a privately held technology and systems integration company founded in 2001 by individuals from Microsoft, SAP and Akamai. Netwoven leverages development centers in the United States and India to reduce costs and improve productivity and collaboration through powerful enterprise information management solutions. It provides off-site and on-site services for diverse industry leading clients.
