

NETWOVEN EXPANDS ITS OPERATIONS IN INDIA

Technology Leader expands its office in Kolkata, India to meet growing customer needs

MILPITAS, CA, July 21st 2011– Netwoven recently expanded its operations in Kolkata, India to meet growing customer demand for global development. The new office space will house Netwoven management as well as technology specialists. The new office will provide SharePoint 2010, .NET Custom Development, and Managed Services to its clients all over the world. It is designed to accommodate a five-fold increase in its professional headcount in the short to medium term.

Niraj Tenany, President and CEO of Netwoven, said, “Netwoven started its Indian operations in 2005 in a small space to accommodate 10 people but with a grand vision to be a leading edge, global software and services development house. Today, I am excited to have a world-class facility in a leading IT location in Kolkata that serves several Fortune 1000 companies. The new facility should enable us to meet our growth plans by attracting and retaining talent in the competitive marketplace.”

Speaking on the prospects of Kolkata as an IT development center, Tenany said, “Kolkata’s potential is hidden in India. Its pool of talented, hardworking individuals at a market competitive price has the potential to make Kolkata a leading Tier-1 software services provider city.”
